The harvest of many crops is complete; for some, like sugar beet, it's just beginning. For many wild creatures, too, autumn is a time of plenty, with berries and seeds, or large populations of prey. It's a time to prepare for the winter to come: caching food, laying down fat, securing a good winter territory, finding a good hibernation site.

This remains true for human subsistence farmers in other parts of the world: the fruits of harvest need to last many months. Commercial farming and global trade mean that most of us don't have to worry about storing up for the winter to come. But there will always be adverse seasons in our lives for which we might prepare now.

Most people think it's a good idea to save money for retirement and for our final years when we may become more dependent. But there are other preparations we might make: are there things other than work, or less active pursuits which will sustain us? Do we know how to slow down? Can we cope with not being needed or no longer being independent? Have we made provision for when we die? For the Christian, the whole of life is, in a way, a preparation for death – or rather, for what lies beyond that final hibernation. Lay up for yourselves treasure in heaven, taught Jesus.

But prior to that there will be other wintry periods in our lives. Hopefully not as severe as that experienced by Terry Waite, kept hostage in Beirut. Denied books, during the first year of his solitary confinement he was sustained by what he could remember of the prayers, poems and prose he had previously used and read.

There is much in Christian faith, in the words and stories of the Bible and the prayers and tradition of the Church, which can act to sustain us through difficult times: assuring us of the continuing love of God; helping to take a heavenly perspective and to keep things in proportion; showing us that suffering can be redeemed and good come out of evil; and that (as revealed to Julian of Norwich) in the end, All shall be well. But if we wait until we are in trouble we may not know where to turn, or be in a position to hear the wisdom. It's far better to digest these truths in times of plenty, building up a personal conviction, an inner resource. Reading the psalms each day, for example, invites me to enter the breadth of human experience, including suffering, persecution and separation from God, even if that's not where I am at that point in time: laying up a store against the inevitable winters to come.

In the love of God,

Martin Greenland

Acle Harvest

St. Edmund's Church, Acle will again be collecting for Great Yarmouth Foodbank at its Harvest Thanksgiving on 7th October (and at The Limes on Tuesday 9th). Perishable produce can be donated; non-perishable food or toiletries are more practical (it may be a few days before donations reach Great Yarmouth). For detailed guidance see <https://www.greatyarmouthfoodbank.co.uk/supplies-list-donate/>

The Foodbank has had to spend money on food through the summer, when donations decrease, while some demands increase (e.g. there are no free school meals for children). Acle Churches Together will be collecting at Carols on the Green this year (13th December).

OVER FIFTIES CLUB AND LOTTERY NEWS

Well another month is half way through and I cannot believe that I am now sorting Christmas menus for our lunch.

Members enjoyed a coach trip to Holt & Wells where they enjoyed fish & chips the weather here that day was dismal with rain but in Holt & Wells it was sunny all day. Next week they are off to Kings Lynn & Dobbies Garden Centre for the day.

Lottery News - Up to time of writing this, it has not been won, and we will next week enter the sixth week so the jackpot is growing, we have two people waiting for one number and quite a few waiting for two, but as all the people in it know someone wanting three numbers could come up on the rails and scoop it. As the lottery participants know I give the winner 60% of the pot and 40% is donated to help keep the Over Fifties club open, at Christmas I will out of the 40% give a donation to Help for Heroes. If you would like to join please give me a ring on 07585504199; the more in it the bigger the jackpot, and who knows you could win the jackpot.

We are open every Tuesday 1.45pm at Reedham Village Hall, come and give us a look it is not just for Reedham, if you live in a neighbouring village and want company and to make new friends and enjoy outings etc. do come along. Refreshments each week are served and every now again we have a buffet. It is £1.50 per week.

Next month we will be looking forward to our Halloween afternoon with a buffet.

Until next time, take care of yourselves.

LAND WANTED

Do you have a small plot of land that you no longer need?

Would you consider selling or renting the land?

The land would be used for planting an orchard, growing edibles and setting up a wildlife area for children to visit, learn about the outdoors and have fun.

I work at Freethorpe Primary School, work as one of the Local Tree Wardens and also help run the Junior Tree Warden scheme, so ideally the land needs to be in the local area.

If you can help or know someone who can, please contact me, Andrea Rowlands on 01493 701148

14.

Our next meeting will be held on Wednesday 17th October at 7.30pm in Cantley Village Hall. A very entertaining speaker, Simon Partridge, will be telling us about The Late Great Fishing Industry. For more information contact Barbara on 07789845050. New members always very welcome.

Reedham Gardening Club

It is good to see our gardens coming back to life again. With a little attention our annuals will continue in October. We can choose Spring bedding, such as pansies, violas, bellis and bulbs. There is time to prepare pots for Christmas. Prepared hyacinths and paper-white narcissi provide colour and scent in-doors. As we harvest onions and potatoes to dry off for the winter, spring cabbages and broccoli can be planted out and broad beans and garlic planted. Cabbage White butterflies have been a real pest this year and brassicas may need covering to prevent damage.

I.T. for All

Following a Summer break, I.T. help is available again on Monday 8th October at 2pm in Reedham Village Hall. Assistance at any level with your device, be it Computer, Ipad, Smart Phone etc. Informal free help and advice for all. Make use of it or lose it.

Remembering the End of World War I

We are planning an exhibition in Reedham church about World War I. Please could we have your help?

Do you have any memorabilia you would be prepared to lend? It doesn't have to relate to Reedham or District. If so, please could you get it to me, either at my address – 18, Church Road Reedham, or hand it to me at the church on Friday 9th November. Please enclose a slip with your name, address, contact number and a bit about it.

Did you have any ancestors who were alive at the time of the Great War? – Well, of course you did! Are there any family stories from that time? These could be quite simple – a Great Great Uncle who was gassed in the trenches, a Grandparent who was a nurse – or an anecdote from the time. These could be in writing or left as a 'phone message (01493 700915).

Would you be prepared to help steward for a period? I suggest we are open from 11am – 4pm on Saturday 10th and from 12.30pm to 4pm on Sunday 11th.

Could give cakes, sandwiches etc for Refreshments?

All profits will be shared between the Poppy Appeal and the Church and the event will end with a short service involving the laying up of the Royal British Legion Women's Section Banner – more details next month.

Reedham Village Show – August 2018

15.

In spite of the adverse weather conditions in June and July, there was a very colourful display of flowers. Vegetable entries were slightly down although the standard was good. Cookery was very well supported as were the Craft, Photography and Children's Artwork. There were 13 hats for the Intensive Care Babies, which will be gratefully received. Next year's Show will be on Sunday 18th August 2019.

Reedham Station Adopters

The Bishop of Norwich

After 20 years in the post, The Rt. Revd. Graham James will be retiring early next year. The process to appoint a new Bishop is already beginning. This involves collaboration between the diocese and the national church. We already have in the Diocese a 'Vacancy-in-See' Committee. Its role is to draw up a description of the diocese, a sense of the vision we are working to and the challenges we face. Out of these we are invited to set what we believe are the qualities we need in our new bishop. Representatives of our Committee will then join 6 national representatives on the Crown Nominations Commission, led by the Archbishops of York and Canterbury to consider candidates. The name of the preferred candidate plus a reserve will be forwarded to the Prime Minister and then the Queen before the announcement can be made.

Anyone wishing to put forward their own views about the challenges and qualities, and suggested candidates can do so through writing to a member of the Vacancy-in-See Committee – details on the Diocesan Website.

The most important thing any of us can do is pray for a new bishop who will lead us well. (From an article by Bishop Alan Winton in the Great Yarmouth Mercury).

Christmas with a difference!

Can you make some room for an international student to learn what true British Festive hospitality can mean? Should you like to add that international element to your Christmas, learning another country's traditions and enjoying the connection and friendship that such sharing brings?

HOST UK arranges for international students to enjoy brief homestays with UK hosts, one day, a weekend or, over the festive period - a three day visit. We need more hosts so that a smile such as Marine's can spread across many more faces...and across our fragile world.
