As a lover of wildlife, it's exciting to hear that Adders have been seen in Reedham churchyard. Not everybody may feel the same way. Apart from those who suffer from ophidiophobia (look it up: I had to!) the fact that the adder is Britain's only venomous snake has resulted in the human persecution which is one factor behind its current scarcity. Even when it was more widespread, human deaths from adder bites were no higher than one or two every ten years; the most recent was in the 1970's.

Discrimination against snakes in general is deeply rooted in human culture. They are handicapped from the beginning in the Bible, where the serpent is the agent of temptation for Eve. As a punishment, the creature is condemned to slither around on its belly, striking at the human heel, while we strike at its head. The problem for the ancients was that snakes didn't fit into their categorisation of living creatures: they were vertebrates, but lacked legs. The Israelite division of animals into clean and unclean worked on similar principles (Leviticus 11): fish were ok to eat, but other water dwellers without fins and scales were not; cattle (distinguished as cloven-footed animals which chew the cud) were ok; but pigs (cloven-footed, but don't chew the cud) and rabbits (chew the cud, but lack cloven feet) were not.

That probably seems nonsensical to us; yet we have our own culinary taboos. And even as a so-called nation of animal lovers, there are still living things which many people seem to feel it's ok to persecute. Rats, moles, members of the crow family, wasps and ivy come to mind; while even conservationists seems to find enjoyment in targetting sycamore and 'bashing' Himalayan Balsam. That's not to deny that the natural behaviour of wild creatures can conflict with our human intentions; but maybe it's we who need to adjust? There can be good sense in seeking to eradicate or control invasive alien species, detrimental to our native wildlife; but is there also a worrying element of satisfaction in having found a legitimate target to persecute? And is the prioritisation of 'native' over 'alien' itself suspect? Brown Hares, Little Owls, Pheasants, Buddleia and sheep are all aliens in our country.

Move from this into the sphere of human relationships and we are in the realm of discrimination, racism, homophobia and the like. Maybe we are living in more enlightened times; yet there is still widespread hostility towards, say, migrants or travellers: those who don't fit our categorisation of what is 'normal', or who belongs. And that does seem to be the issue: it is awful if travellers damage a site where they have stayed or leave rubbish behind; but so is the fast food litter people throw out of car windows: we don't seek to persecute MacDonalds or other outlets, or their customers.

In his ministry, Jesus often found himself at odds with the categorisations of the Pharisees and others between the righteous and sinners, the included and the excluded. He was more interested in the one who didn't conform than in the ninety-nine who did. In the end he became a target himself. Maybe the life-changing question he asked Saul on the Damascus road he asks of any of us when we feel the urge to target others: 'Saul, Saul: why do you persecute me?'

In the love of God,

Martin Greenland

Parish Notes

It might be "Ordinary Time", but there are several special services this month:-

On Sunday 3rd we hold our annual service at Tunstall Church to celebrate Lammas – marking the beginning of harvest and Jesus as the bread of life. This year this will be the summer joint service for Freethorpe Area Churches Together and will therefore be a joint Holy Communion at 11.00am.

Bishop Timothy Dudley Smith died on 12th August last year. He was Bishop of Thetford from 1981-91; but is more widely known as the writer of over 400 hymns. We'll sing 6 or 7 of them in Tell Out my Soul: an evening praise service at Limpenhoe Church (NR13 3JB) on Sunday 10th at 6.30pm (followed by a cup of tea in the village hall).

Most of us need support, physical or otherwise, at some stage of our lives; and, often inspired by Christian principles, many people have some kind of caring role, whether professional or voluntary, recognised or unrecognised. On Sunday 31st our benefice will be Celebrating Care with

- a special service at 10.00am in St. Edmund's Church, Acle, together with local Methodists;
- a display in the church hall by locally-relevant organisations, open to the public from after the service until 1.00pm.

People are welcome to attend either, or both. If you are from an organisation which provides care or support which would like to be represented in the hall and you haven't yet received an invitation, please get in touch before 8th August.

Meanwhile the other Sundays are far from ordinary, with teddy bears at Wickhampton on Sunday 17th and Bartholomew the Apostle on Sunday 24th!

Acle Evening W.I.

Acle Evening WI has certainly had some fascinating and inspiring speakers this year so far, and July was no exception when we welcomed award-winning Norwich-based milliner Alison Goodrum. Alison came to entertain us not only with the history of hat making, but also with a step-by-step insight into how she creates her stunning hats.

August is the month when the business side of our WI life is kept to a minimum and we celebrate the summer with our annual garden party (invitation only) in the stunning garden of one of our members.

We return to full meetings in September when we will welcome a speaker from St Edmund's Society, Norwich. St Ed's is a charity offering alternative vocational training and employability skills training to over 300 young people aged 16-18. We look forward to hearing more about their amazing work.

New members are always welcome. Please contact Frances Mobbs, President, on 07780681865

Acle Evening WI meets on the second Thursday of the month at 7 pm for 7.30 pm in the Church Rooms, Norwich Road, Acle.

Reedham churchyard clear-up day

This month we were joined by a group of volunteers from the Bure Valley Conservation group and were able to cut and rake the conservation wild flower areas. The main areas of grass continue to be cut regularly by a contractor and the churchyard is back to its normal self after last year's hiatus. One benefit of the 2024 interruption to the usual maintenance schedule, is that the area is currently teeming with life. The conservationists were very pleased to see a number of Purple Hairstreak butterflies and there are currently adders nesting in the shade of the wall. Wild flowers abound and we are lucky to have orchids beginning to establish themselves in the meadow area.

The next clear up day will be Tuesday 2nd September @ 10 am.

No experience is needed, only a willingness to muck in with weeding, pruning and general tidying. It is usually a sociable occasion and we stop for coffee and a chat around 11 am.

FREETHORPE AREA CHURCHES TOGETHER (FACT) JOINT SERVICE FOR LAMMAS SUNDAY- AUGUST 3rd

Traditionally Freethorpe Area Churches together have two joint services a year, Covenant in January at the Methodist Chapel, and a Service in the Summer at one of the Anglican Churches. It is the turn of Halvergate Church this year. In August the congregation at Halvergate normally celebrate Lammas Day and so it was decided to join these two traditions together and hold a Service of Holy Communion to celebrate Lammas at TUNSTALL CHURCH

Lammas, from the old English, hlaf-mas meaning loaf mass, is an ancient Christian Festival celebrated on August 1st marking the beginning of the cereal harvest. Traditionally, the first grains of the harvest were milled and baked into a loaf, then offered to God in thanksgiving during a special Eucharist Service. Lammas is older than the more familiar harvest festival which celebrated the end of Harvest. In times past, the summer months could be quite a lean season as the stores of grain had been used. The first loaf would have carried deep spiritual and practical significance.

Tunstall Church, surrounded by farmland is an ideal setting for our Service of Holy Communion on August 3rd at 11am (the traditional time for these joint services) followed by refreshments. Obviously, everyone seeing this notice or from the local area is welcome.

Limpenhoe

We held our annual pizza night on June 27th - 80 pizzas made in the glorious sunshine. We also had a champer who was a priest from America; she certainly picked the right night to stay!

June saw us out on the water enjoying a fabulous evening boat trip to St Benet's Abbey, an afternoon of different crafting in the sun, the inaugural meeting of our film club and the welcome addition of some new members. Our July meeting featured "Puddings, Pop and Prosecco" as part of our summer social and we had a lovely sunny trip to East Ruston gardens as our annual summer outing. This month we will have our Faith Lunch and another lovely walk, whilst choir, book club and film club continue as usual. We do hope you are all enjoying our seed exchange box in the church. The speaker in August is Steve Goodley talking about Estate Planning on Tuesday August 5th in the village hall at 7.30pm. New members are always welcome.

RAF AIR DEFENCE RADAR MUSEUM

The dark shape of a Junkers bomber slips in and out of the clouds, high over the North Sea in September 1941. The pilot had learned the hard lessons to survive the massed raids on Britain the previous summer. He knows on a cold night the bomber's engine controls would glow in the moonlight and make them an easy target for British night fighters, so by skimming the clouds he hopes to mask his course, but the poor tail gunner behind him couldn't see much through the fogged glass of his turret.

If he could see, he might have spotted the black shark fin parting the clouds just 400 yards away. The fin belongs to a Beaufighter, a twin-engine RAF night fighter equipped with 4 cannons and the wonder that is airborne radar. Onboard, the radar operator can see little outside his bubble in the fuselage of the fighter, but with his forehead pressed to his glowing radar scope he focusses on the flicker of interference which shows exactly where the enemy bomber is.

The fighter's radar has a range of a few miles, but with the careful guidance of 'Seacut' they have snuck into the perfect position below their prey. 'Seacut' is the callsign of the ground controller operating the radar from a canvas covered lorry parked in the middle of a field between Horning and Neatishead. Watching his circular radar display, he nervously watches the blips of the bomber and fighter close and then merge. It takes seconds for the Beaufighter to emerge from the cloud, unleash devastating cannon fire, and watch as the bomber rolls towards the dark sea, a large white circle of spray marking its end.

The development of radar was a crucial part of Britain's air defences, to enable the survival of the RAF during the Battle of Britain, to interrupt the night raids of the Blitz and even to combat the V1 Doodlebug flying bombs that struck London and Norfolk in the last year of the war. The RAF Air Defence Radar Museum has fascinating displays and talks about radar technology, strategy, but more importantly the real stories of the men and women who were involved in this secretive world through wartime and peace. The volunteer-run museum is open 10am-5pm, Tuesday to Saturday every week until the 15th November and entrance tickets last a year from date of purchase.

"The politeness of Princes": talk by Imogen Corrigan, Medieval Historian.

This talk will examine the reality of manners and etiquette in the later medieval period: a far cry from the popular image of appalling table manners, medieval dining was a minefield of do's and don'ts! Because so many biblical stories involve dining (The marriage at Cana and the Last Supper for example), a rich vein of artistic evidence also survives.

Tickets: £6.50 (cash on the door please). Church café will be open for refreshments.

Saturday 14 June 2025: Talk by David Clayton of BBC Radio Norfolk

Despite a disappointingly small audience, those who did attend thoroughly enjoyed sharing David's trip down memory lane, covering his teenage years spent listening to the pirate DJs on Radios Luxemburg and Caroline who inspired his future career; plying his trade around Norfolk as a budding DJ, and then his half century involved with hospital radio and then Radio Norfolk. We were all on the same wavelength!

Acle & District Royal British Legion

We were very pleased to welcome a representative from Norfolk Blood Bikes who gave a presentation "We'll Go No Matter What" following our June monthly meeting.

We will not have a meeting on Wednesday 6 August, instead we will be raising funds for the branch by holding "Wally's Quiz". This will be in the Bure Room, Acle Recreation Centre 6.45pm arrival for 7.15pm start. £2 per person with maximum of 6 in a team. Teas & Coffees provided and the Social Club Bar will be open for other refreshments.

REEDHAM PARISH COUNCIL

Meeting held on Monday 7th July 2025 in the Village Hall

There were 9 Councillors present, the Clerk, District Councillor Nurden and 7 members of the public.

Prior to the start of the meeting a minute's silence was held for Keith Sales.

The meeting commenced at 7.31pm.

Cllr Hale thanked Cllr Diane Rushbrook for 42 years as community correspondent to the Mercury newspaper, a role from which she is now retiring.

There was one application for the vacancy on the Parish Council from David Breeze, who was co-opted on to the Council and signed the Declaration of Acceptance of Office.

Updates on the following planning applications were given to the Council:

2025/0890 Barn Owl Close Phase 2 – The construction management plan has been issued, however there have been complaints from residents that container units have been delivered to an area outside the plan. No response has been received from Broadland District Council planning to a query from the Clerk on this and on the working times in the plan.

D. Cllr Nurden offered to take this up with planning on behalf of the Parish Council.

2025/0016 - Field for private dog walking – there have been queries from residents regarding this, documents available on the planning portal show there is an extension granted until 8th August so that a revised plan can be submitted.

Documentation was circulated to the Council giving the past legal opinion on the recently introduced mooring charges at Reedham Quay. Comments have also been received from local businesses. Cllr Hale read out the documents giving the legal position and the Council discussed the action to take to challenge the charges.

Reedham Parish Council resolved to write to Broadland District Council stating their understanding that the Broads Authority are not permitted to charge for mooring at Reedham Quay. The Council also requested that the charges be suspended until the legal position has been clarified and will be sending supporting documentation to underpin their position.

Village Hall play equipment repairs were authorised by the Council. The Community Association will make some of these repairs at a cost of approximately £100. Repairs totalling £1260 + VAT will be made by a professional body to ensure all safety requirements are met.

The replacement fingerpost at Witton Green is now ready for installation. An additional village sign has also been made and will be installed on the grass area by the slipway on Riverside.

In June the speed sensor was located on Station Road near the junction with Barn Owl Close, facing South collecting data from traffic leaving the village. The speed limit here is 30mph. The 85th percentile was 29.6 mph; the average speed was 23.5 mph. The average vehicles per day was 424.

Time and Date of Next Meeting

The next scheduled meeting of the Parish Council is Monday 1st September at 7.30pm, in the Village Hall lounge. Further details will be published on the website, Facebook page and notice board by the Doctors nearer the time. All parishioners are welcome to attend.
